After you login you can utilize your smart phone's features such as Touch ID.

The image shows the login interface for 'Scoutbook for Den Leaders BETA'. At the top, there is a 'Select User' dropdown menu. Below it, the background features an illustration of a person jumping over rocks into a body of water. The login form includes fields for 'Username' and 'Password', a 'Remember me' toggle switch, a 'Forgot password' link, and a large yellow 'LOGIN' button. A Scoutbook logo is visible in the bottom right corner of the form area.

This image shows the same login interface as the previous one, but with the 'Select User' dropdown menu open. The menu displays three user options: 'pp_vinceglasgow', 'pp_andrewcarigiet', and 'pp_craiganderson'. The rest of the interface, including the background illustration and the login form fields, remains the same.

Outside of the demo environment, den leaders will log in with their my.scouting account at Scoutbook.com and select “log in as den leader”.

- ☐ Play the Disc Targets Game. ^

Lay out a field of "targets," making sure to include a mix of shapes and sizes at various distances from the throwing line.

Have Scouts try to hit the items by throwing the discs. As their skills increase, you can add a few challenges by removing the larger targets, moving some of them farther away, or providing ring-shaped objects, like hula-hoops or tires, for them to throw through.

During Meeting

Create a code of conduct for the den.

Using the Den Code of Conduct poster (see example below), have all the Cub Scouts participate in setting expectations of behavior in the den.

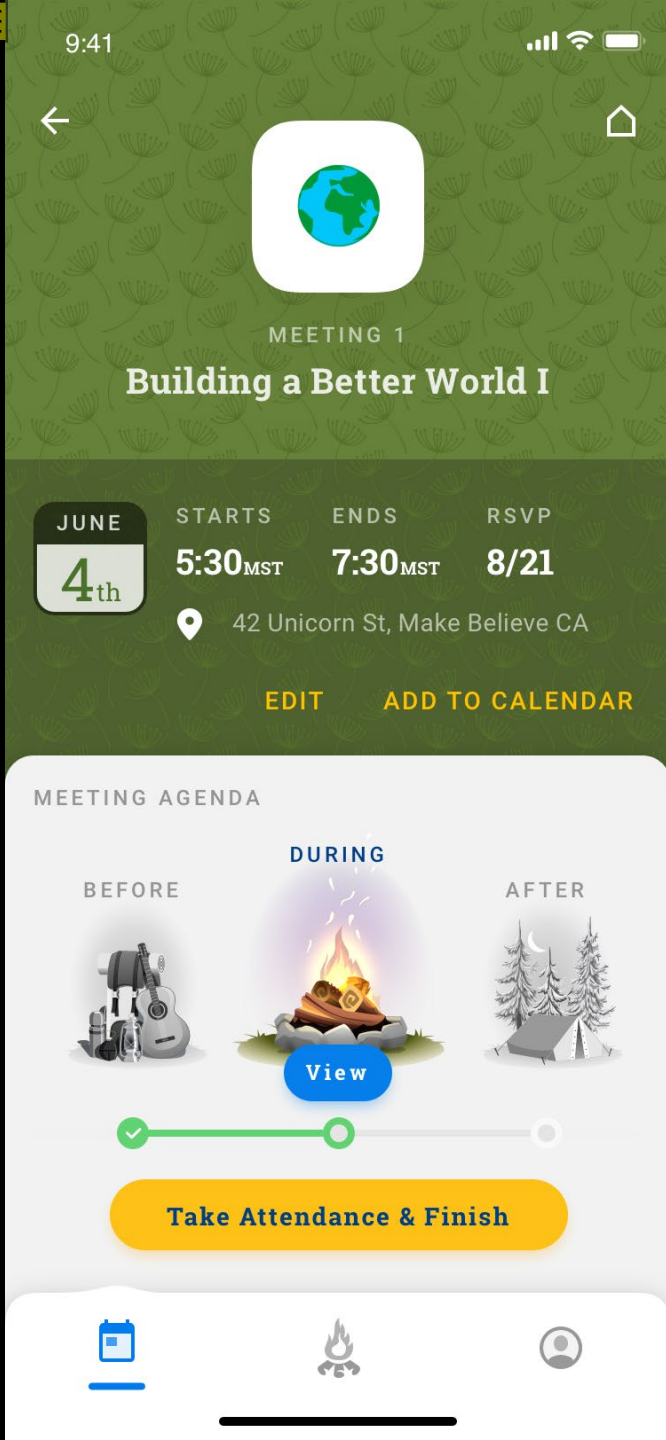

The expectations your den sets should be high so that the Cub Scouts can learn how to achieve. Setting low expectations will lower everyone's performance and not meet the expectations families have of the program.

CONGRATULATIONS

Chloe Has Completed the Tigers in the Wild Adventure!

We hope that you and Chloe enjoyed the Tigers in the Wild adventure! We're guessing adventures like these were the reason you decided to be a Cub Scout!

On this adventure, Chloe talked about the Outdoor Code and the Leave No Trace Principles for Kids. She got to implement those procedures on the hike and have fun while practicing! During the time outdoors, Chloe learned about different plants and animals and showed how she could handle the Cub Scout Six Essentials and learned about why they are important to always have on-hand.

Here are a few key things Chloe learned:

Self-Reliance - It may have felt like a big step letting your Tiger prepare themselves, but part of learning to be an expert hiker, is being able to pack and carry your own gear. Independence and self-reliance are critical skills for Scouting, and life!

Cheerfulness - Signing songs, listening to stories, and acting out skits for everyone to enjoy are perfect ways to spend time with Tigers in the wild. Even if you're shy, you can still have fun performing with you Tiger buddies – just do your best!

Respect for Nature - This adventure showed Chloe that Scouts must be good protectors of the natural world and all of Earth's creatures.

Continue this adventure with a family trip to the park or playground, which can serve as an opportunity to talk about the Cub Scout six essentials and teaching your Cub
